DETAILED ACTIONDouble Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1, 6, 7, 11, & 12 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 2, 6, & 7 of copending Application No. 10/805221. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because all the limitations claimed in claims 1, 6, 7, & 10-12 of this application are present in claims 1, 2, 6, & 7 of Application No. 10/805221.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

3. Claims 1, 6, 7, 11, & 12 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 2, 4, 6, & 8-10 of copending Application No. 10/805228. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because all the limitations claimed in claims 1, 6, 7, 11, & 12 of this application are present in claims 1, 2, 4, 6, & 8-10 of Application No. 10/805228.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

4. Claims 1-8 & 10-12 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 2, 10-12, & 15 of copending Application No. 10/805250. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because all the limitations claimed in claims 1-4, 6-8, 11, & 12 of this application are present in claims 1, 2, 10-12, & 15 of Application No. 10/805250.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

5. Claim 9 is provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 & 6 of copending Application No. 10/805221 in view of Hirano. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claim 9 claims a device as stated in claims 1 & 6 of copending Application No. 10/805228. with the exception of a mold release layer.

Hirano discloses a roller for fixation with a mold release layer. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to modify the device claimed in claims 1 & 6 of copending Application No. 10/805221 with the mold release layer as taught by Hirano in order to prevent wear.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

6. Claim 9 is provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 6, & 9 of copending Application No. 10/805228 in view of Hirano. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claim 9 claims a device as stated in claims 1, 6, & 9 of compending Application No. 10/805228. with the exception of a mold release layer.

Hirano discloses a roller for fixation with a mold release layer. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to modify the device claimed in claims 1, 6, & 9 of compending Application No. 10/805228 with the mold release layer as taught by Hirano in order to prevent wear.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

7. Claim 9 is provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 & 11 of compending Application No. 10/805250 in view of Hirano. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claim 9 claims a device as stated in claims 1 & 11 of compending Application No. 10/805250 with the exception of a mold release layer.

Hirano discloses a roller for fixation with a mold release layer. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to modify the device claimed in claims 1 & 11 of compending Application No. 10/805228 with the mold release layer as taught by Hirano in order to prevent wear.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments, see Applicant's Remarks, filed 5/24/6, with respect to claim 1 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The prior art rejection of claims 1-12 has been withdrawn.

In response to applicant's arguments that a terminal disclaimer only when one of the provisional applications is issued and hence is not needed now; these arguments have been fully considered but they are not persuasive since Application No. 10/805250 has been allowed. Hence, a Terminal Disclaimer is now required to overcome the Double Patenting Rejection. See MPEP § 1490.

Conclusion

9. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
